OUR EXPERT

Aarti Chidambaram

Fondly nicknamed the "Partner Whisperer" by Robert Weiss, a renowned expert in sex addiction recovery, Aarti Chidambaram is a respected figure in the field of Betrayal Trauma. For the past decade, Aarti has dedicated her career to helping individuals navigate the challenging journey of healing and recovery.

Aarti's practical approach to addressing complex concepts such as boundaries earned her the title of "Boundary Guru" from Carol "the Coach" Sheets, a prominent figure in the field of betrayal trauma. Her ability to translate complex psychological concepts into actionable steps with compassion and understanding has made her a trusted resource for individuals seeking support and guidance. An APSATS (Association of Partners and Sex Addicts) Supervisor and ERCCEM (Early Recovery Couple's Empathy Model) Supervisor, Aarti has helped both individuals and couples navigate the tricky road from Discovery to Recovery.

Her work on "Boundaries" specifically has attracted a lot of attention and she has presented on the topic in many international conferences, where her concept and use of boundaries have been very well received.

Based in Singapore, she has been actively facilitating partner support groups, offering a safe space for individuals to share their experiences, find solace, and gather valuable insights from others who have gone through similar challenges. Her dedication and commitment have led to the establishment of the longest-running partner support group in the country. Aarti believes in the power of connection and aims to create an environment that fosters healing, growth, and resilience.

Through her work, Aarti empowers partners to regain their self-worth and rebuild their lives after the devastating impact of betrayal. She helps them navigate the complexities of establishing healthy boundaries and rebuilding trust, while also emphasizing self-care and personal growth as crucial elements of the healing process.

Her work continues to make a lasting impact on the lives of partners, guiding them toward healing, growth, and renewed hope for a brighter future.
